ABSTRACT

This research had the objective to develop collaboration between the school and the community in providing education in Ban Sanam School, Wapeepathum District, Maha Sarakham Office of Educational Service Area 2 by using the action research process. The research group comprised 19 persons. The instruments included a questionnaire, an interview form, and an observation form. The results were presented in descriptive analysis.

The results revealed that the present state and problems of the development of collaboration between the school and the community, as evaluated by the Office for National Education Standards and Quality Assessment (ONESQA) and as documented in the report of internal quality assurance, was in the fair level. And also, when parents and the community were asked to answer a questionnaire, they revealed that their satisfaction was in the low level. Therefore, the research group made a plan to develop collaboration between the school and the community. Six activities were thought up and developed. It was found that the administrators and teachers created good relationship with the community in providing education. The importance of collaboration in providing education was made known to the public in order to create more understanding among the school personnel as well as the community. Parents and the community came to take their role in the development of education, and information about school activities was regularly distributed in the community.

This satisfied the community and they came in to participate in providing education for children.

The development of collaboration between the school and the community in providing education, using participation as an approach of development, could help Ban Sanam School, Wapeepathum District, Maha Sarakham Office of Educational Service Area 2 reach its aims in providing education for children. The teachers, parents, the community, and the basic education institution committee realized the importance of collaboration and they collaborated in all aspects of providing education. As a result, the efficiency of providing education in the school increased.
